ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Suffering in Japan

The misery and suffering in the famine region of Japan has been slightly relieved by the prompt and liberal aid from foreign sources and by the abatement of the rigors of winter.

The local authorities are trying to provide work for the able-bodied, but the extent of the work is inadequate, and thousands are still on the verge of starvation.

Many persons are parting with their children, sending them to the already crowded Okayoma Orphanage. Several children arrived Saturday at the Uyeno railway station, in Tokio. Among them was a girl 6 years old, who was found treasuring a package of dirty, old newspapers. On examination the package was found to contain a postal card, with the address of the parents of the child, who had been told to mail the card upon her arrival at her destination.

The severity of the suffering undergone by the children is clearly depicted in the faces of those who are compelled to part from their homes, where the food consists of flour mixed with straw and weeds. This mixture is beaten fine, forming a pastry which contains only 25 per cent. actual food value. The government has remitted the lowest tax in the famine district, but this will not afford immediate relief.

The liberal contributions from American sympathizers are already effective, and the relief, in the form of food and clothing, is commanding the heartiest appreciation.

Another appeal for aid is presented by the sufferers from the recent earthquake in south Formosa, thousands of whom are homeless.

The local government is busy providing food, caring for the injured and recovering and removing corpses, several hundreds of which are buried under debris.

Steamer on Fire.

After being in peril from fire at sea, and managing by desperate efforts to reach St. Johns, N. F., in the midst of a gale and blinding snowstorm, the British freight steamer Titian struck a submerged rock in entering the harbor late Saturday night, had a hole torn in her hull, and now lies fast on the beach, where she was put to prevent sinking. The fire in the 'midship hold is still burning fiercely, while in the vessel's forehold the water admited by a jagged cut in the hull has reached a depth of nine feet, despite the continuous working of the steam pumps.

The Titian is in no serious danger on the beach, but it is probable that before the fire amidships can be extinguished the 'midship hold will have to be flooded. This will make the work of floating the vessel much more difficult. It is believed that the greater portion of the cargo has either been burned or ruined by water.

The Titian sailed from New York, March 18, for Manchester. Early Saturday she was reported afire off Sable Island and endeavoring to make St. Johns. The report created alarm for the safety of the crew, as it was feared that in the storm she would be unable to gain the harbor. Despite her distress and the thick weather, however, the steamer managed to make the outer harbor, where she picked up a pilot. The ship had barely gotten under way again to proceed to an anchorage when she struck. At first it was believed the damage was not serious, and the fire in the hold still held the attention of the officers when the steamer began to list. The pumps had been set to work immediately the vessel struck, but the water steadily gained. In fear of sinking in midstream, the captain headed the vessel for the shore, and ran her fast aground.

California Trunk Mystery.

A remarkable criminal mystery came to light at Stockton, Cal., Saturday night, when a trunk which had been left all day at the Southern Pacific depot was opened and in it was found the body of a man, probably the victim of murder.

The police, after hard work, identified the man as A. M. McVickars, a miner from the Rawhide mine, at Jamestown, Cal., who went to Stockton Saturday and met a woman with whom he had formerly lived at the mine. No trace of her has been found.

Physicians assert that the man was placed in the trunk while yet alive. It is thought that he was heavily drugged and that the persons responsible, believing him dead or dying, resorted to the trunk to dispose of the body. There are no signs of wounds on the corpse.

The trunk was new, and being without a check, the baggagemaster expected some one to call for it. No one saw it delivered. When the hour for closing the depot Saturday night came, the baggagemaster loaded the body on a truck and was about to wheel it into the house, when he noticed a peculiar odor from it. The coroner was notified, and the trunk opened.

The lid flew back, and up sprang the body of a big man about fifty, dressed like a miner. The legs had been drawn up over the chest and the head forced down into a corner. The body rested on the back. Evidently the man had been dead twenty-four hours.

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain extending from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.)

"In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumors. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.)

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine.

"Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined by the physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more; and I am entirely well. I shall never be without a bottle of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Another Case of Tumor Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About three years ago I had intense pain in my stomach, with cramps and raging headaches. The doctor prescribed for me, but finding that I did not get any better he examined me and, to my surprise, declared I had a tumor.

"I felt sure that it meant my death warrant, and was very disheartened. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring, but the tumor kept growing, till the doctor said that nothing but an operation would save me. Fortunately I corresponded with my aunt in one of the New England States, who advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before submitting to an operation, and I at once started taking a regular treatment, finding to my great relief that my general health began to improve, and after three months I noticed that the tumor had reduced in size. I kept on taking the Compound, and in ten months it had entirely disappeared without an operation, and using no medicine but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and words fail to express how grateful I am for the good it has done me."—Miss Luella Adams, Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Divorced, She Weds Stepson.

Divorced and married again without changing her name or her family! Who else could do it but Mrs. Bertha Twichell, of Chicago, sweetheart of her own stepson? This amazing exponent of economy in romance eloped with her darling "Eddie" to Hammond, Ind., Saturday, abdicated from her proud position of stepmotherhood, doffed her widow's weeds and became a blushing bride once more. The young woman was sued for a divorce by her former husband, Watson H. Twichell, a middle-aged Chicago manufacturer, two weeks ago, the charge being that she had transferred her affections to Twitchell's son by a former marriage. Last Tuesday the decree was granted, Judge McEwen forbidding the defendant to remarry until two years had elapsed. The couple decided to marry in spite of the order of the Court, and went to Indiana for this purpose.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Fort Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING. MAR. 26, 1906.

IN THE role of defender of his belief against all comers, Dr. Torrey, the evangelist, now conducting meetings in Philadelphia, faced the largest audience that has yet gathered at a noonday meeting, in the Academy of Music yesterday. The news that he would answer questions of any sort concerning the christian religion had gone far and wide, and a motley crowd came to hear him carry out his promise. There were doubters, deists, agnostics, atheists and unbelievers of every stamp sprinkled among the firm believers in the truth of the Bible. The stereotyped queries as to where Cain obtained a wife as well as what species of marine monster swallowed Jonah were propounded. The doctor had patience with each interlocutor, although there were times when some of the audience were inclined to drift into pleasantry. The fact, however, remained that he had succeeded in getting a miscellaneous audience most of whom seldom darken church doors, and is an indication of the fact that one mission of the church is to impart knowledge to such as have no opportunity to study into Biblical history or claims, but who are endowed with a keen relish for such things. Many truth-seeking people would respond to invitations to places where miscellaneous questions were propounded and explained, while it is not so easy to interest them in the formalities of devotion.

THE suspicion that the republicans are paving the way for an attack on southern election laws and southern State constitutions which limit the franchise was practically confirmed Saturday by the action of House election committee No. 3 on the Houston-Brooke contested election case from the Second Texas district. The committee adopted by unanimous vote the resolution offered by Mr. Cassel, of Pennsylvania, declaring Houston, the republican contestant, not elected. Then the question came on a resolution presented by Mr. Randall, of Texas, declaring that Brooke, the sitting democratic member, was elected. This resolution was voted down, the republican members voting solidly against it. This division proves that it is the purpose of the republicans to refrain from recognizing the legality of the Texas election law. As a matter of fact, the only restriction on the franchise in Texas is a poll tax, but if the republicans wish to open a fight for a reduction of southern representation in Congress they want the whole field open. It is understood the same course will be followed in a contested election case from Maryland.

RELYING on the efficacy of prayer to cure her and having refused the services of a physician who had called to attend her, Mrs. Sallie Kautz died at her home in Lancaster, Pa., last night. Mrs. Kautz was attacked with severe pains in her head on March 10, and the next day a rash developed. Dr. Elwood S. Snyder diagnosed the ailment as erysipelas and offered to treat her immediately. There was a family consultation and it was finally decided to refuse medical aid and "trust in the Lord and resort to prayer." She became convalescent and seemed on a fair road to recovery until Thursday when she died very suddenly of endocarditis, a heart affection, which was superinduced by the erysipelas. The woman was the second wife of Daniel Kautz and was 37 years old. She was a member of the Dunkard church. Such occurrences as the above are becoming more common every day. That people should use the means put at their disposal is taught by the Creator as well as nature, as even the lower animals possess the instinct to seek certain plants when sick.

THE OPERATORS tell us that should the demands of the miners be met it would be necessary to increase the price of coal $1.20 a ton, and they threaten to place the full burden of the matter upon the consumer.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, March 26.

The Bureau of Navigation today received two dispatches from Lieut. Procter, commanding the tug Patomac, from Gibraltar. The first stated that the drydock Dewey had passed Gibraltar and the second that the Potomac was sailing to rejoin the dock. Presumably the dock was towed through the straits without a pause in her progress. The trip from the Canaries to the entrance to the Mediterranean was very successful. The department hopes that the long tow will pass through to the Suez canal without the annoying delays which hindered her trip across the Atlantic. The cruiser Tacoma has sailed from Alexandria, Egypt, for Gibraltar to keep in touch with the dock. She will pick her up somewhere east of Gibraltar and act as an auxillary.

Letter to W. H. May & Son,

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sirs: If our agent charges you 10 cents more for a gallon of paint than somebody else, don't think he is making more profit; we charge him more; it costs us more. It is all paint, true paint and full measure.

No other paint is all paint, true paint, and full measure, so far as we know. That is wrong. We know some that are pure and full-measure, but weak, thin, too much oil and too little lead-and-zinc: and honest sort of weakness, don't know any better, may be.

It amounts to this: so far as we know: and we think we know the whole American trade; there is no other name but Devoe that stands for all paint, full-measure, and right proportion. That's why it takes less gallons and wears longer. Yours truly Attempted Murder and Suicide.

New York, March 26.—Louise Frenchin, a pretty French girl, twenty-one years old, who was employed at her father's restaurant, the Tivoli, 103 west 38th street, as a waitrress and cashier, was shot this morning by a former waiter at the place, known by the name of "Victor," and is not expected to live. After shooting the girl Victor sent a bullet into his own brain, and ended his life. Victor's passion for the girl and the fact that she did not return his affection led to the tragedy. His protestations of love for the girl became so ardent and he annoyed her so that a week ago her father discharged the waiter. He continued to pursue her, however, pressing his suit. This morning Victor entered the restaurant, which is on the parlor floor of the building, and ordered a bottle of wine. Shortly after Louise came down from up stairs where she lived, dressed in a flowing kimona. Victor spied the girl and at once started toward her. He met her at the head of a flight of stairs and there besought her to run away with him. He attempted to hug and kiss her. Louise called to another waitress named Therese Renilde, saying: "Tell mamma this horrible man is here again." As Victor tried to embrace her, she screamed and fought him off. "Well, it is off, so I suppose I might as well kill you and myself, too," he exclaimed. He whipped out a revolver and fired two shots which took effect into the girl's right breast. He then fired a shot into his own head and fell dead. An ambulance was summoned and took the girl to the New York Hospital, where it is said she will probably die.

Battle With Insane Convict.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 26.—Two dead and two injured men are the results of a battle with an insane negro convict at the penitentiary at 5.30 this morning. The dead are: James Wood, a guard, and "Sunny" Anderson, his murderer, who was sent up from Macon, for four years on the charge of assault to kill. Two other convicts who tried to save Wood from the desperate criminal were severely stabbed. Anderson was killed by the guards while defending himself with buckets of slop in the third story of the cell building. It is not known who fired the fatal shot, as Captain See, deputy warden, and about fifteen guards were shooting at him whenever he showed himself. The trouble occurred as the convicts were being released from their cells for breakfast When Wood opened the door of Anderson's cell the prisoner became violent. Wood shoved him back when he jumped upon the guard and knocked him down and then kneeling upon his stomach, stabbed him in the left side with a shoe knife. Then he jumped up and ran away. Wood struggled to a sitting posture and drawing his revolver fired at the fleeing convict. The bullet went wide and Wood sank back from weakness. The negro then ran back and stabbed him twice more, nearly severing his right arm. Two other convicts saw the attack, and ran to Wood's assistance. Anderson slashed them both and then ran up the stairs to the top tier of the cell block. One of these, William Sheridan, a St. Louis negro, was severly cut in the side. William Rockwell, a one armed white man, was cut about the body.

The Operators and Miners.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 26.—That a deep political scheme lies back of the so-far unexplainable delay of the miners and operators in getting to an agreement as to wages has come to be one of the prevailing topics about the hotels, where representatives of the two sides are stopping. Continuing today, the joint scale committee has been in session six days. The members are tired out and many delegates to the miners' convention, residing in nearby states, have returned to their homes to await the calling of the joint conference. From sources close to the inside comes the information that the question of wages is not the real cause of the delay, but that the trust forces are in reality seeking to embarrass President Roosevelt. The people who give the big orders have determined that, at all costs, Theodore Roosevelt must be put out of the running as a great political factor. At the same source it is stated that the operators have since the matter of wages was first brought up been determined that there shall be no strike.

Fire in New York.

New York, March 26.—The entire large brick building at the southwest corner of Bedford and Downing streets was gutted in short order by a fire which broke out about 12:20 this afternoon, and the firemen are now having one of the hardest fights in recent years to bring the blaze under control. The building in which the fire originated is a seven-story structure, occupied by manufacturing concerns. The fire started on the fourth floor in the plant of the Standard Thread Company. It rapidly communicated to the floors above and below, and inside of half an hour the entire structure had been gutted. The fire was very spectacular. The flames rose high in the air and leaped from the windows, threatening to communicate to all the adjoining buildings. Flying embers were sent heavenward in great profusion and fell over a distance of several blocks, threatening more damage. There were 500 men and girls at work in the building at the time of the fire. When the alarm of fire was given they rushed pell men from the structure using the fire escapes and many of them jumping from the windows of the second floor. A number of persons suffered wrenched ankles or slight hurts as the result of jumping. So far as is known no lives were lost. It has been impossible, however, to make any investigation. The flames spread so rapidly that it is miraculous if all did escape alive. It is feared that when the fire is out, it will be found that some lives were lost.

During the fire there were repeated explosions. The Empire Company, makers of celluloid goods, occupied the middle of the building, and when the flames reached the chemicals explosions followed each other rapidly. The firemen soon saw that it would be useless to try to combat the flames in the corner building, and at once directed their attempts to saving surrounding buildings. The fire is spreading. The west wall of the Metal Stamping Company's building collapsed and several of the firemen were injured. Firemen Cohen and McCune, of engine 14, were found under a pile of debris, in the rear of 36 Carmine street. They were carried out by members of the fire patrol and hurried to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Five firemen have been taken from under a falling wall. The condition of two is critical. Three small buildings at the corner of Bedford and Carmine streets are enveloped in flames.

The Castellane Divorce Case.

Paris, March 26.—It is learned that the hitch in the Castellane divorce proceedings at the time of the preliminary hearing when Count Boni pleaded that he was ill with influenza in order to avoid appearing before Judge Ditte was caused by a question which has arisen over the disposition of the children. Boni has discovered a new point to his disadvantage and he is playing for time in order that this new influence may be utilized to induce his wife to sue merely for a separation instead of for absolute divorce. These preliminary hearings has now been fixed for next Saturday, when husband and wife will appear before the Court. Boni's discovery which he is trying to use to force Countess Anna to change her suit is that since he committed no crime or felony he is entitled to the custody of one of the children. The only way by which Countess Anna can retain all the children is by coming to an amicable understanding with her husband in regard to the separation. As Countess Anna has made the arrangements to return to America with the three children, as soon as the case has been settled, Boni sought to gain time in order that these facts might be impressed upon his wife, hoping thus to influence her to have her suit changed once more back to an action for legal separation.

Emperor's Speech on Yachts.

Berlin, March 26.—At a conference of the German yacht clubs today Emperor William, delivered a lengthy speech regarding measurements of yachts for racing purposes and voiced the opposition to certain proposals made at a conference held recently in London on this subject. He declared the necessity of maintaining a separate small class of yachts because it had been proved that these had encouraged amateur yachting. Whatever the international conference on yachts might decide, the emperor declared his determination to encourage the continued existence of this separate class of yachts by offering numerous liberal prises for races. The Kaiser, during his speech and the discussion that followed, revealed a complete knowledge of the technicalities of yacht construction sailing, measurements and other nautical intricacies. The imperial lecture excited much enthusiasm among the delegates.

REV. J. P. STUMP.

Alexandria, Va., March 26, 1906.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette.

Rev. J. P. Stump, of the Washington street M. E. Church, Alexandria, Va., preached his farewell sermon to a large and appreciative audience last night; as his pastorate expires with the close of this conference year by limitation, he having served this charge faithfully for four years. The subject matter of his text was, the conclusion of the whole matter, "Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man." He spoke earnestly and feelingly to one of the largest congregations ever assembled in this church, composed not only of his own people but representative people from all the churches and city as well. He said: "I came not among you with excellency of words or man's wisdom, but determined to know nothing among you but Jesus and him crucified." He spoke feelingly and appreciatively of his people and association with them and said they had been of the most pleasant and cordial character, and that their faithfulness and hearty co-operation has assisted him wonderfully in his work, and had been a great help to him in his ministry; that he had never spent a more pleasant four years among any former charge and served a more loyal and faithful people, and that his four years here would be to him one of the brightest oases along life's pilgrimage, and that the kindness he had received at the hands of this people would never be forgotten, and would ever be to him like sweet flowers along the dusty highway of life. He spoke in the highest terms of praise of the various official boards of the church and of their hearty co-operation in every way with him to advance the interest of the church. He paid a glowing and deserved tribute to the efficiency of the leader of the choir, Brother H. K. Field, and of the members thereof for their faithfulness and promptness and the splendid music rendered; stating that there had been no friction among the members of the choir during his pastorate, due largely to the efficiency and executive ability and warmheartedness of the leader. These expressions of appreciation met with a hearty response from the hearts of his people; for no one has ever served this charge that lived more in the hearts of his people than Brother Stump. Universally beloved and respected by everyone who knew him, his very presence among us has been an inspiration for good. He has been an acceptable man not only to his home people, but to every one in the community. He has preached the gospel pure and simple without any attempt at oratory or rhetoric. He is a man of strong personality and great decision of character, uncompromising in his opposition to evil in every form and not given to courting popular favor by pandering to the idiosyncracies of his congregation. A more popular man has never served this charge. We are loth to give him up, but the fiat has gone forth and comes to us excathedra. He leaves us with our best wishes and tenderest feelings and affection, praying God's blessings upon him in his new field of labor and rather envying those who shall be so highly favored as to have him for their preacher next year.

Hoping that our annual conference gathering at Cumberland will be most pleasant and profitable, yours fraternally,

W. B. SMITHERS.

The Snow Storm.

Not in years has there been at this season of the year such a severe, blinding and far-reaching snow storm as raged Saturday over the entire region of the United States between the far Dakotas and the Atlantic seaboard, and between the Great Lakes and the Gulf. Practically without cessation the fall continued from 1:15 Saturday morning till Sunday morning and much damage was inflicted on early crops, and many trains all over the area embraced by the storm were delayed for hours.

Over portions of Virginia and the Carolinas the storm raged in its worst severity. From the western part of the State comes news of numerous delays to passenger trains and of a great loss of crops. Petersburg and Richmond report between 5 and 6 inches of snow and Lexington 8 inches. Richmond county reports 7 inches. In the mountainous districts the depth of the snow averages anywhere between five and seven inches and the storm is said to be the severest that has visited the State at this season in many years. The storm was also very severe along the coast and much damage is feared.

The Druggists.

The State board of pharmacy adjourned Saturday in Richmond, after having elected officers and adopted resolutions urging the enforcement of the laws regulating the practice of pharmacy in the State. The board will at once proceed against those who are disregarding the laws, and will endeavor, with the aid of the various Commonwealth's attorneys, to see that the public is protected in the matter of sale of medicines of all kinds. The principal fight to be made by the board will be that against druggists who do not employ registered pharmacists or assistants, and who are not careful in the sale of poisons, such as laudanum, cocaine, chloroform, and other drugs of a similar nature.

The officers chosen were: President, James L. Avis, of Harrisonburg; secretary, T. A. Miller, of Richmond; board of directors, C. B. Fleet, of Lynchburg; C. B. Kearfoot, of Martinsville, and George T. Mankin, of Falls Church.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

Death of Mrs. Strauss.

Mrs. Emma Strauss, wife of Mr. Henry Strauss, died at her home on Prince street, near Royal, at 10:35 o'clock last Saturday night, after an illness of several weeks. The deceased had for some time been a sufferer from incurable troubles, and although the best medical skill had been employed in her behalf her ailments failed to submit to treatment, and it was soon seen that her death was inevitable. Mrs. Strauss was a daughter of the late Joseph Weinberg, and was born in Hanover, Germany. She was taken to Baltimore when an infant. She spent her early years in Caroline county, and came to Alexandria when in her teens, since which time she had been a justly esteemed member of this community, manifesting interest in many things that had been conceived for the welfare of her adopted city. At times when representative ladies of all denominations vied for the alleviation of the distress or for the purpose of accelerating movements to enhance any Alexandria institutions, Mrs. Strauss was generally prominent. Her devotion to the faith of her fathers was sincere, while devoid of all ostentation, and she will be sorely missed in the Washington street Synagogue of which she was an earnest and esteemed member. She leaves one daughter—Mrs. Phil. Leterman, of Charlottesville. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the stricken husband, daughter, grandchildren and all others to whom the deceased was allied in their distress, and while all realize the impossibility of blunting the edge of a sorrow of such a nature, it may be truly said that the kind expressions of their friends and attempts to comfort emanate from souls who mean all they utter.

Miss Critcher in Paris.

The Philadelphia North American of yesterday published a photograph of Miss Catharine Critcher of this city and an article concerning her art class in Paris. It says:

In the home of art—upon its very hearthstone, so to speak, the Latin Quarter of Paris—a bright American girl has organized, and is successfully conducting, a school for the instruction of art pupils. Remembering that for generations Paris has been considered the great university in which ambitious young painters and sculptors must matriculate and graduate; that no art education was considered complete without the finishing touches of the masters there, the daring move is all the more remarkable. But many of the French schools have not maintained their one-time standard of excellence, and therein lay the opportunity of Miss Catharine Critcher. More than that, she has turned attention from an almost exclusive study of the nude, and has given drapery work a vogue such as has not been known in recent years.

Mementos of the Launching.

At the launching of the ferry steamer Callahan at Wilmington, Del., on Saturday, a handsome locket was presented to little Miss Louise Paff, daughter of Mayor Paff, of this city, who christened the vessel, and a beautiful little watch was presented to little Miss Dorothy Callahan, who with a hatchet cut the rope that held the key piece in position. Mr. John Callahan presented the souvenirs, making happy little speeches for the occasion.

Mayor Paff, in behalf of his daughter, accepted the memento, thanking Mr. Callahan for the gift. He then as the representative of Alexandria thanked the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company for what it had done to advance the business interests of his city in building the fine steamers for the ferry route, and predicted their success.

Mr. D. J. Callahan accepted the memento for his daughter, and assured the donor it would always be one of the treasures of the girl, who, when she looked at it, would be reminded of the many kindnesses of her grandfather to her, and of one of the most pleasant days in her life.

Bertha Cooper, arrested by the same officers charged with vagrancy, was dismissed.

A colored man, arrested by Officer Henderson charged with interfering with him in the discharge of his duty, was fined $5.

Death of Mr. W. M. S. Dunn.

Mr. W. M. S. Dunn, a widely known railroad man and father of City Engineer E. C. Dunn, of Alexandria, died at his home, near Midway Mills, Nelson county, Va., Saturday evening. Mr. Dunn was about sixty-eight years of age. He was general manager for a long time of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, of the old Richmond and Danville Railroad, and was general superintendent of the Southern Railway. Later he took charge of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad, and afterwards returned to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, with which he was connected up to the time of General Wickham's death. While he was superintendent of the Southern Railway he lived in this city where he made many friends. The funeral took place this [illegible] from his late residence in [illegible] county.

Death of Mrs. Hart.

Mrs. Bridget T. Hart, widow of Michael A. Hart, died at the residence of Mr. R H. Lyles, on south Fairfax street, at an early hour this morning. The deceased was 62 years old. She was paralyzed last Friday. Mrs. Hart was a daughter of the late William J. Burley, and was born in Martinsburg, W. Va. Her parents when the deceased was a small child took up their residence near St. Asaph Junction where her father conducted the ice business for a long time. Her husband (the late Mr. Hart) was for years examiner in the pension office in Washington. She was of a pious nature, and was well informed and refined.

Farewell Sermon.

Rev. J. P. Stump, who has been the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South in this city for the past four years, last night delivered his farewell sermon before a large congregation. There was also a large concourse of people at the morning service. Mr. Stump spoke in an earnest and fervid manner during both discourses. At the close of the night service the members of the church as well as many of other denominations went forward and shook hands with the minister, expressing their earnest wishes for his future welfare, as well as regrets that the time had come for him to go to another field.

The season for the Episcopal High School baseball team, of Alexandria, opened Saturday, when it defeated the Bliss Electrical School, of Washington, by the score of 9 to 12. MONDAY EVENING, MAR. 26, 1906.

Preacher Killed by Lightning.

While in the midst of his sermon yesterday morning at Carson, Iowa, Rev. John B. Lentz, a Mormon preacher, was struck by lightning and fell from his pulpit dead. Just before the bolt struck him he said:

"An unseen power is reaching out to draw me in."

Rev. Mr. Lentz had preached a sensational sermon on "Character building." While the services were in progress the first thunderstorm of the season came up, and the minister started to dismiss the congregation before the rain fell. He was entreated to continue, however, and did so.

He was quoting the words of a young man who, speaking of passing a saloon, had said: "An unseen power is reaching out to draw me in," when there was a crash and a blinding flash.

A ball of fire fell from the ceiling immediately above the pulpit and struck the minister, who fell forward from the platform to the floor. He died instantly.

No electric shock was felt by the congregation, and an examination of the church failed to show any damage whatever.

The stroke which killed the preacher was the only violent one during the storm, which passed away without damage.

Lord Nelson's Old Desk.

The lucky London omnibus driver who owned Lord Nelson's "General Memorandum" to his captains at the battle of Trafalgar had it for many years without knowing its true value, though he knew it was valuable. His father was butler to Sir George Munday, who served with Nelson. Sir George exacted a promise from this favorite servant never to leave his service, and at the same time gave him a desk containing papers, saying they would be valuable some day. On the death of his father the bus driver received the desk, which in recent years has been in the care of his daughter. A chance question from a passenger who asked him if he had ever been to Merten Abbey, where Nelson lived, prompted the driver to say that he knew something about Nelson. "My father," he said, "was the Admiral's man. The Admiral gave him an old desk with letters in it. One, I know, bears on the battle of Trafalgar." The passenger asked to see the letter and said he would give £10 sterling and a suit of clothes if he liked it. Surprised at his big offer, the driver next day consulted another passenger, who advised him to send it to Christie's. He did so and it was sold for $18,000.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health Tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Lead beater & Sons druggists.

Labor in Politics.

The American Federation of Labor threw down the gage of defiance to Congress Saturday. Resenting what the Federation has alleged to be the indifference of that body to its demands, it has decided to enter the political field, and by means of the ballot endeavor to administer political punishments and rewards.

The executive council of the Federation announces its decision in the following statement:

"We reaffirm, as one of the cardinal principles of the trade union movement, that the working people must unite and organize, irrespective of creed, color, sex, nationality or politics. That the American Federation of Labor most firmly and unequivocally favors the independent use of the ballot by the trade unionists and workingmen, united regardless of party, that we may elect men from our own ranks to make new laws and administer them along the lines laid down in the legislative demands of the American Federation of Labor, and at the same time secure an impartial judiciary that will not govern us by arbitrary injunctions of the courts nor act as the pliant tools of corporate wealth. That as our efforts are centred against all forms of industrial slavery and economic wrong, we must also direct our utmost energies to remove all forms of political servitude and party slavery, to the end that the working people may act as a unit at the polls at every election."

Want to Witness Hanging.

A number of women have expressed a keen desire to witness the hanging of Isaac Winder, the colored murderer of Frederick T. Rinehart, which will take place at the jail in Towson Md., next Friday. Sheriff Jacob Elliott, who will have charge of the execution, and who issues the permits to see it, has been deluged with letters and personal applications for tickets, the letters coming from all parts of the county. Mr. Elliott stated that several respectable women of Towson, women who are wives and mothers, have approached him and asked for permission to witness the hanging. He said that the women could give no reason for their desire to witness the gruesome sight other than that they were curious to witness the execution. Among the letters received from women several came from the county, one from Baltimore and one from New York. The writers in eve y instance stated that they had never seen a hanging and that they wanted to see one.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shonick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several does that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." The remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
